

COUNTRY STUDIES

Exam questions

1. Subject, methods, functions and tasks of Country Studies.
2. Concepts, methodological bases of studying and properties of geographical and geopolitical position of the country.
3. Regionalization of the world. The United Nations geoscheme.
4. Civilization as a category of human development. The concept of "civilization". History of development of world civilizations
5. Information revolution, its impact. Network society.
6. Conceptual essence of globalization as a socio-geographical process. Impact of globalization
7. Formation of the territory of the state. Internal division of countries.
8. Electoral systems in the world. Factors influencing the election results. Gerrymandering.
9. Types of party systems. Classification of political parties.
10. Methods of analysis of the economy and infrastructure of the country.
11. Methods of studying nations. Racial, ethnic, linguistic, religious composition of the population.
12. The concept of natural conditions and natural resources. Estimation of natural factors in country studies.
13. Migration. Diaspora. Current tendencies.
14. Geopolitics of the state in the international arena. Geostrategy.
15. Methods of studying the population of the country. Employment of the population. Gender and age composition of the population.
16. Non-governmental organizations and their role in the modern world.
17. Sovereign state, non-state entities (actors) within the world system.
18. The concept of "world economy". Components of the world economy
19. Subregions of Europe, their characteristics.
20. Classification and typology of countries
21. Epoch of colonialism, formation and collapse of great world colonial empires.
22. Political map of the world, state system, domestic and foreign policy of the feudal era.
23. Ancient states of the world, their state system and interstate relations. Countries of the Ancient East.
24. The First World War, its causes. Political map of the world after the First World War.
25. Cold War, its causes, impact on world political processes. The collapse of the world socialist system.
26. Types of states by political regime. Political and legal institutions depending on the regime.
27. The impact of natural factors on human life and economic activity.
28. The European Union. Maastricht Treaty.
29. The state system of Italy.
30. The state system of China.
31. Natural resource potential of Japan. Environmental problems.
32. Legal systems of European countries.
33. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of the United States. Features of its historical development.
34. Legal bases of EU economic integration.
35. Legal bases of EU regional and migration policy.

36. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of Latin America. Features of historical development.
37. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of Great Britain. Features of historical development. Overseas territories.
38. Natural resource potential of Latin American countries. Ecological problems.
39. Natural resource potential of Great Britain. Ecological problems.
40. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of Africa. Features of its historical development.
41. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of France. Features of historical development. Dependent territories.
42. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of Australia. Features of historical development.
43. Natural resource potential of France. Ecological problems.
44. Natural resource potential of Australia. Ecological problems.
45. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of Italy. Features of historical development.
46. The state system of Africa.
47. Natural resource potential of Italy. Ecological problems.
48. The state system of France.
49. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of Germany. Features of historical development.
50. The state system of Great Britain.
51. Natural resource potential of Germany. Ecological problems.
54. The state system of Germany.
56. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of India. Features of historical development.
57. Natural resource potential of African countries. Ecological problems.
58. Geographical location and administrative-territorial division of Japan. Features of historical development.
59. Natural resource potential of India. Ecological problems and state system.
60. Natural resource potential of China. Ecological problems.
61. Natural resource potential of the United States. Ecological problems.
62. The state system of Australia.
63. Demographic characteristics of France.
64. The main sectors of the French economy.
65. Demographic characteristics of Great Britain.
66. Demographic characteristics of India.
67. Demographic characteristics of Italy.
68. The main sectors of the German economy.
69. The main sectors of the Italian economy.
70. Demographic characteristics of Germany.
71. The main sectors of the Indian economy.
72. The main sectors of the Central and Eastern European economy.
73. Demographic characteristics of China.
74. Demographic characteristics of Japan.
75. The main sectors of the US economy.

76. The main sectors of the Japanese economy.
77. Demographic characteristics of the United States.
78. The main sectors of China's economy.
79. Demographic characteristics of Latin America.
80. The main sectors of the economy of Latin America.
81. Demographic characteristics of Australia.
82. Economy of European countries.
83. Geography, principles, system and structure of the European Union.
84. Foreign policy of Germany. Membership in international organizations.
85. Sources of law of the European Union.
86. Foreign policy of Great Britain. Membership in international organizations.
87. Human rights in the European Union (development and current state).
88. Foreign policy of France. Membership in international organizations.
89. Institutes of the European Union.
90. Internal market, economic and monetary union of Europe.
91. China's foreign policy. Membership in international organizations.
92. Demographic characteristics of the United States.
93. The EU environmental policy.
94. The US foreign policy. Membership in international organizations.
95. Organizational mechanism of European security and defense.